FARMER MURDERS FATHER-IN-LAW, THEN KILLS WIFE

Morse Believed to Be of Unsound Mind—Shoots Without Provocation.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Farmville, Va., April 19.—P. J. Morse, who came to this neighborhood from Iowa about six years ago and bought a farm near town, killed his wife and father-in-law this afternoon with a shotgun. For some time it was believed that he was of unsound mind, and his friends sent him to his old home in Iowa, hoping the change would be beneficial. He returned this morning, went out to the farm, ate dinner, and after resting for a while, suddenly jumped up, and seeing his father-in-law standing in the door with a gun, seized it and shot him to death. He then turned upon his wife, who was standing in the back door, and emptied the other barrel of the double-barreled gun, the ball striking just below the heart and death following instantly.

Morse then went for a colored woman to carry his two-year-old baby to a neighbor's house, and took a seat in the porch, where he was found when Dr. Huddell and Chief of Police Fugate reached the home. After the shooting, both shots striking directly over the heart of the victim, he placed the body of his wife in bed and dragged the remains of the father-in-law to the side of the room. He walked up the stairs and placed the gun by the body of the dead man.

Morse says that while trying to rest his heart went wrong, and that all he knows is that he took the gun from the hand of his wife's father and remembers nothing after that.

In jail he sobs and cries, but will give out no story of the crime. Four young children attend school in Farmville, and on their return to their home met their father in charge of the officer, but were not advised of what had happened. They were sent to the home of a neighbor.

FRIENDLY SUIT IDEA REJECTED

Randolph-Macon Conference Proposition Stands as Approved in October.

TRUSTEES HOLD MEETING
Members Fail to See Wherein Agreement Can Be Regarded as Illegal.

The suggestion that a friendly suit be instituted to test the legality of the plan recently agreed upon for the election of trustees of the Randolph-Macon System of Schools was rejected by the board of trustees at a meeting held yesterday at the Y. M. C. A. The meeting, throughout was harmonious, and while there was some difference of opinion, the action of the board is looked upon as the final end of an old problem which has aroused some feeling between members of the board and the Methodist Conference of Virginia. Thirty-three of the thirty-eight members of the board attended the meeting, over which Judge E. D. Newman, of Woodstock, presided. The call was issued at the request of eight or ten members of the Board of Trustees, who felt some apprehension that the action taken by the board and accepted by the conference might not be legal.

See No Need of Suit.
They suggested the friendly suit, but the board, after a long discussion, decided against it, holding that the action was justified and that it did not violate the provisions of the charter. There was no acrimonious debate, no bitterness, the utmost harmony prevailing. Reports from the various schools in the system, showed that they were doing remarkably well, with a large enrollment.

For several years the Virginia and the Baltimore Conferences believed that they should have some voice in the management of the Randolph-Macon schools. In the election of trustees, with the right to nominate or confirm trustees who were elected to fill vacancies. The board did not believe that the charter gave any such right to the church, but after many meetings an agreement was reached in October last, the sense of which was that when a vacancy occurred the trustees were to nominate and submit the name to the two conferences, and if the conferences approved the trustees were to elect. Both conferences approved this plan.

DECISION FAVORS WOMAN SUFFRAGE

Annual Debate of Franklin Society at Randolph-Macon College.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Ashland, Va., April 19.—The Franklin Literary Society of Randolph-Macon College held its annual public debate in the college chapel to-night. Four men all chosen from the Franklin Society debated the question, "Resolved, That the free use of the ballot by women would be beneficial to our country."

Messrs. Dyer and Bain upheld the affirmative side of the question, while Messrs. Pope and Copley as their opponents on the negative side. The decision was rendered two to one in favor of the affirmative. Many women attended the debate, and were much pleased with the decision and the arguments. Mrs. Valentine, a leading suffrage advocate, came from Richmond as the guest of Dr. and Mrs. Smith, of Randolph-Macon, to attend the debate.

W. E. Jordan and E. P. Barrow, as first and second vice-presidents. Dr. Charles Ambler, Dr. Hall Canter and Rev. S. P. Headley were the judges. Music was rendered by the college glee club, and refreshments were served after the program was concluded.

RISKEY IS PUZZLE TO CAROLINIANS

Virginia Defeats Tarheels, and Series Now Stands Two and Two.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Charlottesville, Va., April 19.—By defeating North Carolina to-day 4 to 0, Virginia evened up in the series of four games scheduled between the two institutions. The Old Dominion had copped the first game played in Greensboro last Saturday, but lost the contest at Winston-Salem and Charlotte on Monday and Tuesday.

It was sweet revenge for Risky, Virginia's sophomore. Three times this year he has opposed Captain Lee, Carolina's star, and twice he has come out victorious. To-day he allowed four scattered hits and did not issue a single pass. The men behind him batted superbly, the momentary fumbles by Carter and Hewitt being on easy chances and causing no damage.

Lee's spectacular holding featured the contest. Twice he pulled down long flies from Edwards' bat after some lively sprinting. Once he collided with a runner, and though both went down in a heap he held on to the ball. In the eighth he ran backward nearly to the cinder track and gathered in Lee's long fly. Carter was applauded for his backward running catch of Seining's out in the sixth.

Carolina's infield worked with much precision. Bailey's work at second being especially clever. Hanes made a beautiful catch of Risky's long foul in the seventh.

Both teams were to-night extended an invitation to play the rubber game in Danville.

Carolina plays the Navy to-morrow, Georgetown on Monday and Princeton Tuesday. To-day's score:

League Regulars Win From Scrubs
Players on Newham's Squad in Warmly Contested Game at Suffolk.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Suffolk, Va., April 19.—[Richmond Camp.] There is no layoff in the Richmond camp of the United States League. The Regulars must take the place of the squad in a warmly-contested game this afternoon. Ben H. Smith and Clyde lined up with the scrubs, and had General Newham down on the coaching line. The Regulars won out by the score of 4 to 2. Hoffman rapping out a two-bagger, scoring Frou, and being followed by a long single by O'Hare.

Cyrus Clyde was in line form and has about worked the winter kinks out of his arm. Pat Bohannon, a new arrival, was at men's first day out, and he is heavy with the stick. Hegerty and Luthrop, a south-paw, were on the mound for the Regulars. Newham is pleased with his pitching staff, and to hear the fans talk they have great stuff. Hout was hit at second, and with Newham at short it is a great team on the infield.

Hoffman, Blue, Hegerty, Clyde, Seybold and Bohannon are fellows who stand over six feet, and are big men at the bat. Several exhibitions games have been arranged for next week. The Battle Axe team coming for a game on Monday. The crack team from the battleship Louisiana, which will play Fox Shafter's Virginia League. The Collegians of Richmond are to be defeated on Thursday or Friday. There is some talk of the Washington team of the N. and S. League coming for a game on Friday or Saturday.

Chew Wrigley's SPEARMINT on your way home. Cleanse your mouth—refresh it.

It makes you as hungry as a bear—makes you want food, then helps digest it.

If everyone everywhere would chew it before and after eating, what fine appetites—fine digestions—fine teeth—we'd all have.

And the green country seems very near while you enjoy this refreshing mint leaf juice.

Try it tonight!

Buy it by the Box of any dealer. It costs less.

Look for the spear. The flavor lasts.

DEATHS

MEADE—Died, April 19, at her residence, 1320 N. 1st St., Mrs. MEADE. Funeral Sunday at 4 P. M. at the residence. Interment Oakwood.

IN MEMORIAM

WALKER—In sad but loving remembrance of my dear husband, H. L. WALKER, who died one year ago to-day, April 20, 1912.

O husband, thy gentle voice is hushed.
Thy warm, true heart is still.
Thy death has caused a vacant place
This world can never fill.

We miss our darling father.
Miss him more each day.
Home seems not the same to us,
Since our darling father went away.

You are gone but not forgotten;
Fresh in love will ever be;
For as long as there is life,
We will always think of thee,
BY HIS WIFE AND CHILDREN.
